Travel, Culture and Beyond: Brazil - Manaus Paris of the Jungle	Kelly	Tue, 11/13/18	1	10:00 AM	12:00 PM	$5.00
In the late 1880's with the advent of the automobile, the demand for rubber became overwhelming. Men came to the Amazon jungles to harvest the rubber trees. These men, known as the Rubber Barons, became extremely wealthy overnight. The city of Manaus was born as the port for exporting rubber latex. These wealthy barons built fabulous structures with all materials imported from the Europe. One of the major sites is the famous opera house, center of culture. It is said they were so wealthy that men lit their cigars with bills equivalent to $100; women refused to have their clothes washed in local water and sent them back to Europe to be laundered. Manaus, now a city of 2 million, is reviving and renovating the beautiful old structures. This city is a true world wonder and is the place of beginning a tour of the Amazon.

Have you ever wonder what piranha soup might taste like? Well- come with me on a fabulous 8-day cruise of the Amazon. We embark at the port of Manaus- the place where the rubber barons brought their materials from the jungle. We will explore the two rivers that meet to make the Amazon- and the mysterious fact that they travel side-by-side for 6 miles without mixing. Excursions into the jungle will tell you how the natives live and survive in the harsh climate. You will also look at some of the flora and fauna of the region. I will even take you fishing for piranha (I did not catch one).

The Science and Innovations of Benjamin Franklin	Hautanen	Fri,	2	10:00	12:00	$10.00

9/7/18

AM

PM

We all know Ben Franklin discovered lightning is electricity. But, his contributions to many branches of science were so extensive that he was probably the most famous scientist of his time. Of course, his inventions were also important for many of seniors even today with our bifocals and their modern enhancements. But, he was also an innovator, introducing to our country many institutions that were more common in Europe, including a university, postal system, library, fire department and fire insurance. The course will be in part based on lectures by Professor Robert Allison in The Great Courses: The Age of Benjamin Franklin.

Light and Photography

Bouley

Photography is all about light. If there was no light, you would not have a photograph. The word photography derives from Greek, and literally means light drawing. How we control the available light is the basis for all photography. Light in photography sets the mood, creates depth, or highlights a subject; the light around you and how you respond to it can often make or break a photo. All of us are aware that the world around us appears differently depending on the day, the weather, and time of day or year, or if the light you are shooting with is natural or artificial. So, just as the light determines how we see things, it also dictates how our photo will look. In this course you will learn the characteristics of light and photography and how you can use this to your advantage to bring your photos to life. Also, to have a thorough understanding of your cameras, how white balance settings to improve your photography. Skill Level: Beginner.

Wholeness is the key theme of the anthology on environment. We are one with the natural world, not just with the millions of other living species with whom we share it. But, we are also with the elements of air, water and earth of which we are composed. Sometimes we need to stand back and view our world in perspective - from the beginnings of the universe to the littleness of our affairs. Olaf Stapledon once wrote: ...and on the skin of this little grain all the swarms of men and women have lived in labor and blindness with intermittent joy and intermittent lucidity of spirit. It is that lucidity of spirit that this book celebrates. We will be reading some twenty writings (10 in the FALL; ten in the SPRING) beginning with Katahdin by Thoreau and ending with Dimensions of Deformity by Gordon Miller. In addition we will be seeing a DVD on the Environment. The book Keeping Things Whole may be purchased from the Great Books Foundation (1-800-222-5870). Also, you should purchase Pilgrim at Thinker Creek (explanation to follow in class). There will be a charge for printing.

How the English Language Evolved Prior to 1600	Holloran	Fri, 11/16/18	4	10:00 AM	12:00 PM	$20.00
Historical linguists and archeologists have traced the beginnings of English, and many other modern languages, to a group of nomads who lived north of the Black Sea about 2500 BCE. They tamed horses and invented the wheel, which allowed their descendants to migrate from original territory in every direction. With time their languages evolved in these regions into new languages, of which one became Old English We will follow this trail to the English of Shakespeare with the help of lectures by several professors from The Great Courses.

Mastering Black and White Photography	Bouley	Tue, 12/11/18	1	10:00 AM	12:00 PM	$5.00
In this class on mastering black and white photography, instructor and professional photographer Bruce Bouley will show you how to choose your subjects, set up your camera and how simple, but effective adjustments in Photoshop and Lightroom can make your images stand out. Converting an image to black and white is pretty simple, but if you want truly impressive results it pays to think about how and what you shoot, and learn how to use the powerful tools of your photo editing software to get the most from your shots. When it comes to black-and-white imagery, being able to see how your final shot will look is a key skill. It is important to understand how the color image you see through the viewfinder of your camera will translate into a monochrome image. To get the best results, you have to look beyond the colors, and instead try to visualize how the shapes, textures and tones of the shot will be recorded.

College athletic programs on the whole used to be clean - USED TO BE!!! Professional athletes used to be role models. The most amateur of amateur sports programs, high school athletics and summer leagues for youths and teenagers, now have mommies and daddies wanting a say in everything. What happened here? College athletics are big business - The revenue at the Penn State football program is so excessive it pays for the remainder of the athletic programs at the school. Professional athletes are out of control and amateur programs run on the win at all costs philosophy. We will discuss in detail various problems exposed in athletics at all levels, evaluate solutions and possible changes, and discuss the underlying causes behind the problems, and what needs to be eliminated so the problems do not continue to occur.

Spotlighting the Rising Powers of India and South East Asia	Coffey	Mon, 9/17/18	4	10:00 AM	12:00 PM	$20.00

World geopolitics are changing and what is happening in Asia is a big reason for it. China has been the headliner, but India and the five countries of Sri Lanka, Myanmar, Thailand, Malaysia, and Singapore that border the Indian Ocean, although long overshadowed, are undergoing equally dramatic changes and merit spotlighting. Indeed, this region may become the counter to China's expansionism.

Florida Constitutional Amendments Explained	Johnson	Mon, 10/15/18	1	1:30 PM	3:30 PM	$5.00
--	---------	------------------	---	------------	------------	--------

Former county commissioner Judy Johnson will discuss the 11 amendments to the Florida Constitution on the ballot in November. The ballot measures refer to such diverse subjects as property taxes, casino gambling, voting by those with felony convictions, victims rights, off-shore oil drilling, and various administrative measures.

Talk of the Town VI-3	Coleman	Mon, 10/22/18	1	1:30 PM	3:30 PM	$5.00
------------------------------	---------	------------------	---	------------	------------	--------

This is the third section of the Fall Term Talk of the Town course. Come and have, hopefully, a spirited, but polite, conversation for two hours each session. You should be involved because you are interested in exploring ideas with others. For each session two papers will be selected by the instructor from his vast and fascinating collection.

Law School for Seniors: Civil Procedure II	Kelly	Thu, 11/29/18	2	1:30 PM	3:30 PM	$10.00
---	-------	------------------	---	------------	------------	---------

These two sessions are the ending in the series of Civil Procedure. We will culminate by looking at the civil jury trial and appeals.
